

ROUND

NOTES

Denver, Colorado

August/September, 2006

President's Letter – Rob and Terri Sherwood

CRDA is pleased to announce that our two proposals, submitted to the 53rd National, were accepted by the awards committee. The awards were presented to Ed and Elvira Glenn at the State Square and Round Dance festival in June. The board appreciates the Glens being there to receive the certificates on behalf of CRDA. Now it is up to CRDA to make these projects come to fruition. Funding reimbursement does not happen until we have accomplished our tasks.

The first proposal was to augment our beginner dance classes to extend to a start date in the Spring. For years, beginners could only start in September or January. Our options are have a cuer volunteer to have an additional class, or to move a class to May. CRDA and the 53rd would each share 50% of the expense of the hall, plus $50 a session for the cuer, up to a maximum total cost of $1000.

The board would like input from all cuers and dancers for ideas on how to make an extended class schedule a reality. In the long run, bringing new dancers into the hobby is the prime requirement to maintain the health of round dancing. There is the unfortunate reality that cuers compete for dancers who may stay with their original teacher, or later move up to higher phase clubs. Yet we must all work together to build our hobby, or some time in the future we will find it no longer exists.

The second proposal is to have High Definition Music of Denver produce a 30 second radio Public Service Announcement promoting round dancing and beginner classes. High Definition will provide original music, and supply a professional announcer to voice the PSA. We will share the expense up to a maximum total cost of $500 with the National fund. This audio product will be distributed to area radio stations in the hope they will include it in their air schedule that includes community service information.

The next CRDA event is our Harvest Moon Dance on September 17 at 1:30 and 6:00 PM. This is an easy and intermediate dance (phase II through IV) that all members of CRDA can support and enjoy. Please encourage your new dancers who attended the Spring Dance to join us again for an enjoyable day.

All CRDA members have seen proposed changes to our bylaws, as printed in Round Notes. For the most part, the changes are an attempt to bring the substance of our bylaws in line with how the organization actually functions. A living organization hopefully adjusts its procedures to changing conditions and technology. Members were to have expressed their concerns about the proposed changes by July 1. At this point, only minor grammatical corrections that do not affect the substance of the text can be made. The main functional change this year is the proposal to only print bylaws changes in Round Notes once, and in place of the second publication, to have the entire bylaws and future changes posted at CRDA.net. If you receive your Round Notes in electronic form, you can see how convenient it is to see proposed changes in color. Color would also appear on the web site.

While the minutes published in Round Notes said CRDA would purchase an additional CD, the later decision to purchase sound enhancement equipment negated that decision. The board will make final decisions on the wireless headsets and transmitters at the August 19th board meeting. Hopefully the equipment will be available for Harvest Moon.

From Patrick and Eileen Krause:

We would like to invite everyone to the 2006 CRDA Harvest Moon Dance to be held on Sunday, September 17th at the Arvada Methodist Church. See flyer on Page 6 for details.

Would you or someone you know like to help promote and foster round dancing by becoming a member of the CRDA Board of Directors. Couples or singles are welcome and we would encourage all levels of dancers to become board members. Give us a call at 303-690-0916 or email krause.p@comcast.net

Believe it or not, it's not too early to starting thinking about helping plan the 2007 CRDA Gala! We are looking for an Assistant Chair, but there are also plenty of others things to help with. Avoid the rush and let us know early! 2007 Gala Chaircouple. Give us a call at 303-690-0916 or email krause.p@comcast.net Thank you.

The Gala Beat

Sleep Inn Reservations

To insure a spot at the Sleep Inn, make your reservations early! The Sleep Inn has been very accommodating to CRDA, reserving most of their rooms for the dancers. A breakfast bar and a soup bar are available, and it's only a 10 minute drive to the ballroom at UNC. The phone number is 970-356-2180. Ask for the CRDA block.

Greeley RV Park

The RV Park is 3 miles from the UNC Ballroom. Phone numbers are 970-356-6476 or 1-800-572-2130.

Warm-up Dance and Pre-registration

On Friday afternoon, from 2:00 to 4:00, Chris Cantrell and Roy Knight will be cueing all levels of round dancing in one of the three halls. This is the perfect time to pre-register for the weekend, catch up with friends old and new, and warm-up for a weekend of dancing.

Vendor

Barbara's Dance Fashions & Dance Shoes from Hurst, Texas, will be bringing dance clothing and shoes for your shopping convenience.

CRDA Website

The CRDA Website is www.crda.net. Terri Cantrell keeps the website up to date so check it out frequently. A few weeks before the Gala, Terri will post the Gala program so you will have a chance to see what dances are included in the dance program for the weekend.

What Are the Benefits of Attending Special Dances

Festival, Convention, Weekend...

Why should I attend Special Dances and Dance Events?

What can I get out of it?

Will I make a fool of myself?

Virtually every dancer, from every type of dance activity, has asked one or more of these questions at one time or another.

Answering the last question first, no, you will not make any more a fool of yourself than every other couple there. Armed guards are not going to appear and escort you off the floor and out of the hall if you make a mistake, crash into inanimate objects (walls, chairs...), trip over your partner, fall, or any make any other faux pas.

Why should I attend the Festivals and other special dances?

The reasons are as varied as the number of people dancing, but some of the basic benefits are:

1. Increase the Amount of Floor Time Spent With Your Partner: Remember the old saying "practice makes perfect". In reality, practice increases your "body memory" (ability to almost subconsciously execute figures and movements). It also increases your sensitivity to the movement with your partner, allowing you to better feel and give leads (remember, only one person should be the leader – ideally this should be the man, but...).
2. Learn and Workshop New and Old Figures that have been and/or will (95% of the time) be choreographed into other routines. You may not become totally comfortable with the figure, but you have gained useful information and the next time you are exposed to that figure (or another figure in the same class*) it will come more easily.

3. Workshop Dance Technique: Technique is the mechanics of how a figure should be executed, from the toes on up. Technique does not include "styling", which individualizes figures and actions.

4. Learn and Workshop Rhythm Characteristics: These are what make one rhythm look and feel different than another rhythm, even when executing the same figure.

For example: A waltz flows up and down and glides across the floor, while a jive is springy, energetic, and less rigid, and generally confined to a smaller amount of floor space.

5. Styling Tips and Development: Learn new methods of styling, reinforce the styling you already do, and/or develop unique styling with your partner. Styling normally involves parts of the body that are not otherwise in use while executing a figure; it is something you can do that will not interfere with the proper execution of the figure or action. Styling is always optional.
6. Experience Different Teaching and Cuing Methods: Sometimes an instruction worded or shown in a different way can, all of a sudden, make sense.
7. Socialization and Fellowship with other people interested in the same thing you are.
8. Romance and Companionship: Round Dancing is a wonderful way to spend quality time together with your partner. Even in a room of hundreds of people, dancing focuses your attention on just one person, your partner.

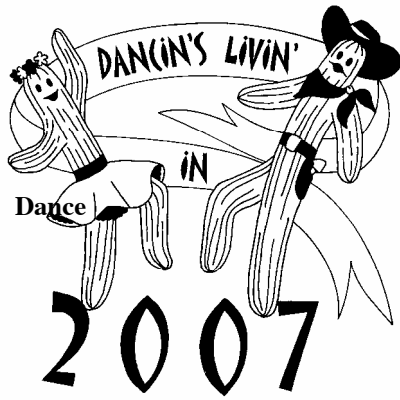

If you are open and receptive to the information presented at the festival, even if your instructor does not teach the routine or the level, you have learned and experienced a tremendous amount, gained valuable knowledge, and hopefully had a little fun in the process.

In addition, as a dancer you do not need to rely on your instructor all of the time. You can tape (audio and/or video) the routine being taught at the festival, bring it home, and keep it up on your own or with others who attended the same festival. Some dancers are lucky enough to have a recreation center/community center that will allow them to use space at no charge; others work on routines in the living room, basement, garage, and even the driveway (hopefully not a slanted driveway). I have even heard of a couple driving home after a festival who were listening to the tape of the teaches and periodically stopped the car along the side of the road to try out various figures and combinations, and solve various disputes.

There are many other benefits to attending Festivals and other special dances. Talk to a fellow dancer who does attend these and see what they have to say.

CRDA ROUND NOTES EDITORS

To take the over responsibility of editing and publishing the CRDA Round Notes
starting in 2007

After five years of editing and publishing the CRDA Round Notes, Bill and I have decided to step down from this position. We have enjoyed the experience but feel it is time for others to bring new and fresh ideas to the publication. Please give some serious thought to taking over this challenging but rewarding position. If you are interested, please contact Rob and Terri Sherwood at 303-733-6110. Thank you.
