

Round Notes

Denver, Colorado

June/July 2007

President's Letter – Rob and Terri Sherwood

Let me start by apologizing to everyone who did not get their April/May Round Notes. The e-mail version went out, but due to a computer crash the next day, the printed version was never sent to the printer. This issue of Round Notes will try to cover information from both issues that is still pertinent from a time standpoint. Since I get my copy via e-mail, I did not start hearing about the problem until it was impractical for a print run a month after the fact. This incident happened on my watch, so the "buck stops here", and I am sorry for the error.

This is the second major data loss that has happened to a CRDA member in the last month or so. Since so many members have computers, let me make a few comments about data and backups on personal computers, even though this has nothing to do specifically with our dance organization.

In the past, the amount of data we typically had on our computer was modest, consisting of some word processing documents, some financial data and possibly tax returns. Now with digital cameras being the norm, along with MP3 music files, backing up all that data is difficult, and thus rarely happens. Of course if you don't back up to something (CD, DVD, tape) there is little hope of recovering from a crash. If you do backup, it is likely you have never done a restore. Don't wait until something has gone wrong to try to learn the restore process used by your backup software. Five years ago a new client told me she backed up to CD, and I asked her how long it took, and she said about 5 seconds! Obviously there was nothing on her CDs.

You never know when your digital pictures will suddenly become priceless. A friend of mine called me in May and asked if I could still recover all the family pictures off his wife's laptop, like I had their Quickbooks data a month before. He then gave me the shocking news that his 39 year old wife had died in her sleep, and he and his 8 year old daughter desperately wanted those pictures that had not be a priority just days earlier. Since my "day job" is computers and keeping data safe, feel free to call me if you have concerns about your data.

The Gala theme this year is:

Dancing Is.....Unforgettable

We would like your response to:

Dancing Is....._____

Fill in the blank. What is dancing to you? Please send us your response with your name by either e-mail, mail or by telephone. We would like to include your responses in the gala syllabus.

We are looking for dancers who would enjoy getting more involved in round dancing. We are starting to look for singles or couples that would like to be on the CRDA board. There are only a few meeting a year. If you or someone you know would like to on the CRDA board, please call or e-mail us.

Back to CRDA.

Our fifth monthly "fun dance" was held at Rose Hill Grange on May 12, and we had about 15 couples participate in an enjoyable evening. John Herr and Roy Knight performed the cuing duties, with a good mix of levels for all those in attendance. CRDA has scheduled its monthly dances so as to not conflict with other dance events in Colorado. Since June is the State Square and Round Dance festival, and the Herr's Polar Express is in July, we will not be holding a monthly dance again until August. That dance will be on the western slope, on Sunday August 26th, following the Peach Festival dance on the 24th and 25th. There will be no monthly dance in September due to our regular Harvest Moon Dance, but in October we hope to return to Colorado Springs for the monthly event. The Board really appreciates all the support from Colorado Dancers, and it is nice to see our friends on a more regular basis.

COMFORTABLE DANCING

Lead That Hockey Stick

Have some of the common round dance figures become so familiar that we walk through them in a mechanical and almost thoughtless way? The cue is familiar. We know exactly where to go. It's more like walking to the kitchen for that morning cup of coffee than it is like dancing. We can reclaim some of the fun in well-known figures if we think beyond the steps and focus on connecting with our partner.

For instance, we might begin a Rumba Hockey Stick in fan position with the lead hands joined. The man steps forward on his left foot and, with a little pressure through toned lead arms, leads the woman to close on her right. Right away, you feel a connection with your partner and some communication. He recovers on his right foot, she steps forward left, he closes his left, and she steps forward right to a position in front of him; she facing reverse and he shaping toward the woman and so facing toward diagonal wall.

Here, at the end of the first measure, we have a fun point of connection. Ladies, don't go past your partner's shirt buttons. And men, don't let her get past you. Begin to raise your lead hands as she approaches. This will draw her attention to you. Don't thoughtlessly make that third step a back step—stay close. You might even gently touch the front of her right hip with your trail fingertips as you turn slightly toward her. In a "mechanical" Hockey Stick, you might be facing the wall and looking at the back of her right ear, and she might have walked past you and been looking toward reverse line of dance. Is she maybe looking for someone else to dance with? But if you are connected through lead and follow, then you are close, touching, and looking into her eyes. Careful—don't be distracted from the dance.

Now, continuing to raise lead hands, on the first "quick" of the second measure, the man takes a small step back on his right foot, and she steps forward left, finally passing his shirt buttons. He recovers on his left foot, and she steps forward right with a sharp left-face turn under lead arms to face the man. She steps side and back toward diagonal reverse and wall, and he steps forward to follow her. Her progression toward reverse and then backing toward diagonal reverse and wall traces out the shape of an ice hockey stick, and the man can provide two different leads to make this a partnership effort. He can move the lead hands between partners and in the direction of diagonal reverse, and he can use his body shaping to guide her. The line of his upper body along the diagonal directs her progression along that diagonal.

If you communicate through tone in the lead arms and if you shape toward your partner and act as though you are aware of (and glad to be with) your partner, then you can take a familiar, ho-hum figure and make it dance.

Very Special Guest Teacher, CHARLOTTE'S WORKSHOPS for ROUND DANCERS

Here is the tentative plan for 10/21(Sun.).

WALTZ Phase IV-V

10:00 am - 10:45 am

Charlotte is a real world first class Professional Ballroom Dancer and Coach. She trained John O'Hurley for 'Dancing with the Stars'; he didn't have much experience in ballroom dancing but received 2nd place with their wonderful performance.

In this session, we will work on Waltz basics using a round dance Charlotte choreographs for us.

(11:40 am - 12:25 pm Q & A)

TANGO Phase IV-V

10:50 am - 11:35 am

Charlotte was the dance partner of the World Champion, John Wood & Andrew Sinkinson. MIRAMAX chose her to coach Richard Gere and Jennifer Lopez in the movie 'SHALL WE DANCE?' in which she also choreographed their TANGO.

In this session, Charlotte will teach Tango basics with a round dance she choreographs for us.

(11:40 am - 12:25 pm Q & A)

Exercise/Trigger Points

9:45-10:00am & 12:30-1:00 pm

Nelson is a very experienced Personal Trainer in Reiki/Energy Work/Martial Arts (805-223-1563) and has worked with dancers.

He will show us what will not only be helpful and fun but will provide valuable information in our everyday lives. We suggest the ladies wear pants to this session and you might want to bring a Yoga Mat/thick towel.

OPTIONAL

1:45pm - 3:25pm: TBA

Charlotte, who coaches Top Professional & Competition Dancers all over the world, will be here for Round Dancers in each workshop.

If interested in, please contact us by 7/27/2011. Your idea and/or requests are welcome. An additional cost, approximately $30 per person and session (45min.) is required. Upon finalizing on this session (by the end of August), we will inform the actual fee to all attendees.

CRDA Website

The CRDA website is www.crda.net. Updated Gala information will be available online, including the program a few weeks before the Gala. Be sure to check the CRDA website frequently.

Voting for Routines

You may vote for your favorite routines to be on the program and for the "Top 10". The vote list will be in future Round Notes and may be mailed. You may also vote online on the CRDA website (www.crda.net). There will be paper copies of the vote list at the Harvest Moon Dance in September. The "Top 10" routines are dances that receive the most votes at each level of round dancing and will be danced on Saturday evening. There are two routines at each level: II, III, IV, V & VI.

After Party

Everyone is invited to the after party following the dance on Saturday evening. The after party will be held at the Sleep Inn in the food area and lobby. This is a great time to visit with cuers, old and new friends. Bring a "finger food" snack to share if you like. Everyone is invited whether you are staying at the Sleep Inn or not. Please come!

Contact Information

If you have any questions or would like to help at the 2007 Gala, please feel free to contact us: Patrick & Eileen Krause at (303)690-0916 or krause.p@comcast.net.

The 2007 Gala Budget was presented. So far, 78 dancers have registered and 42 lunches have been requested.. CRDA membership was offered free to early registrants and 2 people signed up.

A chairperson is needed for the Harvest Moon dance, Rose del Sol is considering the position. Chuck Thompson asked for clarification regarding paying the bills for cuers and halls.

Hall of Fame

Of the four couples nominated, Judy Spahn has received information back from two.

Membership

We have 135 members, 27 have not renewed. At the Spring dance we got one new membership, free membership was not offered this year. Terri Cantrell has the sign in sheets and will solicit assistance from the cuers to get names of the new dancers in attendance so they can be contacted and offered free membership. Jean Montgomery asked that the board members also review the sheets and contact anyone we know for membership. There was a brief discussion about what is the incentive to join the CRDA and the true benefit is supporting your organization so that we can all continue to have the opportunity to dance.

There is a need for a cash box at our dances and registration forms to join CRDA and a greater effort needs to be made to get the registration information to Jean. Chris Cantrell is working on an operations project to clarify duties and aid the flow of information.

Operating Procedures Project – Red Book

This is a new project headed up by Chris Cantrell. To clean up the bylaws, align procedures from 1997 with revised bylaws. The bylaw committee will be recalled to assist along with board and committee members.

Unfinished Business

We discussed how and where to get new dancers. What worked and what didn't. Advertising in local newspapers. Angels for round dancing. Need partners for singles. Two step fading away. Reorganizing the classes in the fall.

New Business

John Herr is organizing a one-week cuers clinic in July. The cost is $350 per person. Colorado cuers Mitchell Thompson, Justin Judd del Sol and Roy Knight are wanting to attend this clinic. Financial assistance from the CRDA was requested.
